

Terms and Conditions

By using this website you agree to the following terms and conditions:

About Samplephonics

Samplephonics are in the business of selling downloadable products in the form of digital audio recordings, music production software and other related materials, for use by, but not limited to, musicians, music producers, composers, film editors and web designers.

License Agreement

All products from Samplephonics are sold as 'royalty free,' which means that they are licensed, not sold to you, by Samplephonics. Samplephonics is either the owner or entitled licensee of the products on sale. By making payment for a product you are granted the right to incorporate them in a music production, film, tv program, website or other media production, without paying any additional royalties, license fees, or any other fees to Samplephonics or any third parties.

Usage and Copyright

Copying, re-selling, leasing, duplicating or distribution in any form of the products for sale, other than outlined in the 'License Agreement', is strictly prohibited. This extends, but is not limited, to file sharing websites, web forums, computer networks and file hosting websites. Products cannot be distributed in their original format or sold in a manner that would be considered competitive with the nature of Samplephonics' business, outlined in 'About Samplephonics.' Everything else on the website is licensed to Samplephonics, including artwork, source code, materials, audio demos, graphics, text and logos and protected by copyright and intellectual property laws.

Security and Registration

You do not have to be registered with Samplephonics to view the website, but to purchase products you must provide certain information, including a user name, password and valid email address. Once these are provided they will be kept on file by Samplephonics. This information will be used by Samplephonics as outlined in the 'Privacy Policy.'

Privacy Policy

To provide you with the services you have selected, it is essential for Samplephonics to store your personal information. This information will be used by Samplephonics and its service providers to allow for faster purchasing and the allocation of discount coupons, and will not be passed on to any third parties. No promotional information from Samplephonics or any third parties will be sent to the email address provided, except the Samplephonics newsletter, which you can unsubscribe to at any time using the link at the bottom of the email.

When you enter the site you will be issued with a cookie, which is a small text file transferred from the website to your hard drive, and is used to validate your login details and allow the audio player to function smoothly when browsing the site, as well as record areas of the site that you visit. This helps us to provide the best browsing experience for our customers and we don't collect any other information than that outline above and that you enter on the website. This website complies with the Data Protection Act 1998 and Samplephonics takes all necessary measures to ensure your data is protected against loss, theft, misuse and alteration.

Samplephonics is not responsible for any information contained in any 3rd party websites that are linked to from this website.

Payment and Downloading Products

Payment is taken on behalf of Samplephonics by Sage Pay or Paypal. All prices are inclusive of UK taxes, and are subject to change from time to time. After payment you will be taken to a page where you can download your product(s). If your download fails you may reattempt to download from the same page. You have 3 download attempts in total, and the link will expire after 24 hours.

Disclaimer and Waiver

Samplephonics will be held harmless against any losses, judgements, claims, legal fees or court costs that may arise out of a breach of these terms and conditions. By entering this agreement you agree not to sue or recover any damages from Samplephonics and any affiliated companies or people as a result of its decision to terminate or suspend this agreement.

Whilst Samplephonics will take reasonable and sufficient steps to ensure that the website is free from any viruses, trojans, malware, spyware, harmful software, data theft or any unauthorised malicious activity, Samplephonics make no guarantees on this subject and will not be held liable for any loss resulting from this.
